SOME BRITISH LEADERS DEMAND FULL ACTION BY MILITARY FOR AID RUSSIA

BRITAIN URGED TO SEND ARMY TO AID REDS IN UKRAINE

DECLARED NATION READY TO MAKE ANY SACRIFICE TO AID RUSSIANS

LONDON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Attacks designed to knock Italy out of the war, night and raids on German-held coasts of the continent and a fighting British stand alongside the Red army in the Ukraine were advocated today in a full dress war debate in the House of Commons.

Simultaneously Supply Minister Lord Beaverbrook, back from Moscow, told the House of Lords that Russia's great losses of war supply manufacturing facilities left the USSR in a position akin to that of Britain after Dunkerque.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden replying for the government in Commons, declared "We realize what opportunities this German attack (on Russia) offers us," but added that to tell what plan of action will be taken "would be playing into the hands of the enemy."

"I can only give this house one pledge," he said, "and it is a pledge I assure them that the government is determined to honor.

"We are going to give Russia every help in our power by every means."

He told Commons that even at the expense of the British army, equipment was being speeded to Russia.

Promise Make Up Losses.

Lord Beaverbrook said the United States and Britain mission to Moscow had promised Joseph Stalin to make up Russia's losses in tanks and planes with shipments from their own production lines.

He declared bluntly that the situation in Russia was grave despite the development of many movable industries. He said Stalin described them as "leap frog industries which could be moved backwards or forwards as the enemy advanced or retreated."

"They have steel plants and heavy engineering works 900 miles or more from the German line of advance," Lord Beaverbrook said, "and these are capable of immense production."

Speakers at the same time were telling the House of Commons that the people of Britain were "ready to face grave risks for Russia"—that many felt not enough was being done.

Little Chance of Success.

A majority of those taking part in the debate agreed that a large scale invasion landing on the continent would stand little chance of success, but Commander Stephen King-Hall, laborite member, asserted that "Germany has an appendage called Italy and that opens up vital possibilities."

Col. Josiah Wedgwood, another laborite, suggested that there were "at least 100 places" along the European coast where British troops could force landings in night raids.

A third laborite, Philip J. Noel-Baker, opening the debate for the opposition, declared "the army wants to fight," said the Volga had become Britain's frontier and added:

"We now have powerful forces in the Middle East, and I believe our people would be very happy if some part of these forces could be sent to support Russian armies in the Ukraine."

In his lengthy report on Russia's position and her needs Beaverbrook said that Stalin's chief cry was for tanks; that the Russian premier regarded the war as one

CRUDE PRODUCTION OF 1,533,283 BBLS. BEEN AUTHORIZED

INCREASE OF 39,285 BBLS. DAILY OVER OCT. ALLOWED FOR NOVEMBER IN TEXAS

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The state railroad commission today authorized average production of 1,533,283 barrels of oil daily during November, an increase of 39,285 over the allowable for October.

Texas fields, save for usual exceptions due to special conditions, were ordered shut down for eight days, compared with nine in October. The shutdown days will be Nov. 2, 8, 9, 11, 16, 23, 27, 30.

Considering the shutdowns and 3.5 per cent normal production below the allowable, the actual output will be 1,479,618 barrels daily, the commission estimated.

The bureau of mines estimate of market demand for Texas oil in November was 1,454,700 barrels daily.

Only two basic allowables of fields were changed, those of Old Ocean and Conoco-Driscoll being reduced.

Minute increases resulting from the over-all boost in output for the state were distributed among all the fields according to the established proration formula.

The basis allowable of the Old Ocean field was reduced from 22,741 barrels daily to 20,286, and that of the Conoco-Driscoll field from 3944 barrels to 3641.

Reasons for Cuts.

Old Ocean was cut to prevent waste of gas and Conoco-Driscoll to conform specifically to a court order growing out of litigation.

Ernest O. Thompson, commission chairman, said the order would allow the building up of stocks against spring demand which apparently would be surprisingly high.

Another commission member, Olin Culberson, asserted the order represented the studied opinion of all commissioners as to what was needed at this time.

HEALTH UNIT FOR NAVARRO COUNTY GETS ENDORSEMENT

LARGELY ATTENDED MASS-MEETING DISCUSSED PROPOSAL IN DETAIL

Endorsement of a county health unit for Navarro county was given at the conclusion of a largely-attended mass-meeting held at the courthouse Thursday morning on motion of Mayor John C. Calhoun of Corsicana. The proposal had been discussed and explained in detail by various speakers and representatives of schools, women's clubs, PTA, physicians, county and city officials, civic clubs and others, who also expressed their ideas and desires. Mayor Calhoun made it plain he was not trying to impose on the commissioners court, and had suggested that if the finances of the county would not care for the additional expenditures public donations, etc., be secured to start the unit. Considerable discussion also was had relative to the P. and S. Hospital's place in the proposed program, with some criticism and some praise of certain features of the hospital.

Different Types Treatment

Emphasis was placed on the different types of treatment—the health unit primarily being educational and preventative type while that of the hospital was necessarily curative.

E. D. McCormick, county judge, presided.

Dr. Wm. T. Shell, Jr., city health officer, said the county had an opportunity to get such a needed unit, and said the county medical

GOVERNMENT URGED TO ATTACK ITALY AND CONTINENT OF EUROPE

DEFENDERS OF MOSCOW REPORTED AS BEING STEADILY PRESSED BACK BY GERMANS

By The Associated Press.

Britain's parliament resounded with demands on Prime Minister Winston Churchill today for British attacks on Italy, night landings on the continent by raiding parties and the dispatch of Imperial troops to bolster Russia's battered Red armies in the Ukraine.

"The people of this country are ready to take grave risks for Russia. The army wants to fight!" declared Laborite Philip J. Noel-Baker, opening for the opposition in a full-dress debate on the conduct of the war.

Simultaneously, Minister of Supply, Lord Beaverbrook, told the house of lords that the United States and British missions to Russia had promised Premier Joseph Stalin to make up Russia's losses in tanks and planes.

Amid this clamor for definite British action to help the U. S. S. R. Russian troops defending Moscow were reported being steadily pressed back upon the Soviet capital.

Adolf Hitler's high command, in a secial communique, asserted that Nazi columns had smashed through Moscow's outer defenses on a broad front from the southwest and west, reaching several points only 38 miles of the beleaguered capital.

While the Germans pictured their troops as driving almost to Moscow's suburbs, British informants said that the Russians were turning the Soviet capital into another Verdun and that the nazis were finding the going increasingly difficult.

"It's 20 to 1 they'll never take Moscow this winter," the source declared.

Strong German forces were reported striking hard on the Southern (Ukraine) front, jabbing for a soft spot through which to drive into the rich Caucasian oil fields.

Fighting in Kalinin Streets.

Soviet dispatches said that bitter fighting was raging in the barricaded streets of Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of Moscow, and that large forces of fresh Italian, Hungarian and Rumanian troops had been thrown into the southern front battle for the vital Donets river industrial basin.

Russian correspondents said Red troops had fought off the Germans for eight days at Kalinin, with the Nazis hurling masses of men and tanks into the assault.

"Now fighting is going on in the city streets," reported Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

"Anti-tank obstacles and barricades are being erected in the streets. Squares are furrowed by trenches. The struggle goes on for every inch of Soviet land—for every street, every house. Some city blocks have changed hands several times."

Reports reaching London said the Germans, handicapped by winter's first snows blanketing the Moscow front, were taking to the air with parachute troops in great numbers.

Russian Command Shakeup.

The Nazi calim of a double break-through came as the Russians disclosed a shakeup in the supreme Soviet command on the central front, ith Gen. Gregory K. Zhugov, chief of staff, replacing the veteran Marshal Semeon Timioshenko.

Under the new setup, Gen. Zhukov takes command of the entire western zone.

WINTER CONDITIONS IN BATTERED KIEV NOT REASSURING

DELAYED FIRES SET OFF IN BIG PORT CITY BY HIDDEN RUSSIAN MINES

By ERNEST G. FISCHER

WITH THE GERMAN ARMY IN KIEV, Oct. 14.—(Delayed)—(AP)—What winter will bring remains to be seen in this German-Occupied city, bombed and battered in weeks of siege and left by the Russians to burn.

The food problem has been solved by the German army's soup kitchens but as winter's snow swirls through the charred ruins of burned buildings, the sight of women and children hunting for firewood is not a reassuring sign.

Delayed fires were set off by hidden Russian mines after the city was occupied and burned for five days, razing 20 blocks even after 10,000 other explosives had been made harmless, nazi officers told me during a conducted tour. Bridges are in ruins.

Many of the mines, they said, were set to explode from radio impulse and others were hooked up with the electricity system.

SEVEN LARGE STEEL COMPANIES FACING STRIKES IN MINES

CIO UNITED MINE WORKERS ISSUE FORMAL STRIKE CALL IN CAPTIVE MINES

By The Associated Press.

One hundred Michigan state police this afternoon took up guard duty at approaches to the strike-closed Ecorse plant of the Great Lakes Steel Corporation after the management announced plans to resume operations.

The plant has been closed for eight days by a walkout described by company and CIO union officials as a "wildcat" strike. Strikes asked a new contract, reinstatement of their strike leaders and removal of a CIO regional official.

The strikers refused orders of CIO leaders to go to work, and union officials then suspended 16 strike leaders anr rejected terms under which the strikers said they would resume work.

Closing the plant in suburban Detroit stopped work by 8,600 employes on defense contracts for high-tensile steel.

Seven large steel companies today faced the prospect of strikes in their "captive" coal mines next Monday midnight, while 20,000 Alabama coal miners remained idle in a wage dispute.

The CIO United Mine Workers last night issued a formal strike call in the captive mines, renewing their demand for a union shop. A similar demand last month caused a seven-day strike of 43,000 workers, ended by a thirty-day truce arranged to permit the national defense mediation board to consider the dispute.

About 21,000 of the miners live

Six Members Of Tug Crew Drown In Detroit River

DETROIT, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Six crew members of the Tug America, trapped in their bunks when the vessel capsized at 2 a. m. today during an attempt to free the grounded freighter B. F. Jones, drowned in the Detroit river.

Capt. Ralph Millard, manager of the Toledo office of the Great Lakes Towing Co., who suffered chest injuries; Capt. Raymond Damas of the America, and six other crewmen who were on deck when the mishap occurred, were tossed into the river but rescued.

The America, which came from Toledo to move the Jones from a mud bank near Peche Island at the edge of the channel from Lake St. Clair, into the Detroit river, turned over suddenly, and the six sleeping crew men had no chance to escape.

The men drowned were: Harry Lamb, Toledo; Fred King, Toledo; Frank McPherson, Fort Huron, Mich.; Nelson Winne, Todelo; Ray Paul and William DeForrest, both of Sault Ste. Marie.

GERMAN SPEARHEADS ALMOST TO SUBURBS OF MOSCOW THURSDAY

CITY'S WESTERN AND SOUTHWESTERN OUTER DEFENSES DECLARED BREACHED

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—(AP)—German spearheads are about 35 miles from Moscow—almost to the suburbs of the Soviet capital—German spokesmen said tonight after the high command declared the city's western and southwestern outer defenses had been breached on a broad front.

Although there was no definite word that the fiercely defended capital had been encircled, the belief was expressed here that there was little likelihood the Red Army could get any effective help through to bolster the city's garrison.

German bombers, it was said, now are battering at Moscow by day as well as night.

A special announcement from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters earlier today told of the breakthrough the outer defenses in a hard-hitting assault and said the Germans as several places were within 60 kilometers (37.2) miles of the capital.

The break-through was made on a broad front during the past few days despite bad weather conditions, the war bulletin said. Moscow was bombed heavily again last night, it added.

German dispatches earlier had

FORMER AMBASSADOR TO BELGIUM OPPOSES ARMING OF SHIPS

JOHN CUDAHY DECLARES STEP JUST ANOTHER SUBTERFUGE EDGING US TO WAR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—John Cudahy, former ambassador to Belgium, declared today that the pending armed ship legislation was only incidental to "the administration's main purpose of expunging the neutrality act from the statute books."

Cudahy appeared before the senate foreign relations committee in opposition to the merchant ship arming as Capitol Hill and White House developments indicated that administration forces would take the lead in urging the senate to expand the measure so as to permit American ships to travel anywhere in the world. Under the neutrality act, merchant vessels now can not enter belligerent ports or designated combat zones.

Cudahy, who served in Belgium at the time of the German invasion and also has been ambassador to Poland and minister to Ireland, told reporters prior to his committee appearance that the house approved armed ship proposal "is another step edging us into war by subterfuge."

Directly before the committee is only the repealer of the neutrality act's ban against arming merchant ships but chairman Connally (D-Texas) told reporters he was having amendments drafted to broaden the scope of the legislation. Connally advocates the

Jap Newspaper Makes New Try For Peace Today

TOKYO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Japan Times and Advertiser, controlled by the foreign office, loosed a new trial balloon for peace today by offering the anti-axis powers a "last chance" to use Japan as a mediator in the European war.

As Germany's axis partner in the Far East, Japan holds a "paramount status as a pacifier," the newspaper said, but warned that Japan would not hesitate to fight the United States to safeguard her interests "awful though even the thought of such a holocaust might be."

"It is the last chance to use the only vehicle for exploration of the ways of world harmony—Japan, the balancing power whose decision could plunge the only pacific ocean into a chaos not of its own making," the organ declared editorially.

American Object of Attack.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 23.—(AP)—J. B. Powell, American editor of the China Weekly Review and consistent critic of Japan's program in China, narrowly escaped injury or death tonight. A hand grenade thrown by an unidentified assailant hit him on the shoulder but failed to explode.

Powell was walking from his office to the American club in the international settlement followed by his Chinese bodyguard when the attempt was made.

HILLMAN DEFENDS ACTION IN DETROIT HOUSING CONTRACT

CO-DIRECTOR OPM CHARGED WITH USING OFFICE AS AFL RECRUITING AGENCY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A CIO official told a senate defense investigation committee today that OPM was engaged in "an unlawful conspiracy" with the AFL after Sidney Hillman, co-director of OPM, had again defended a stabilization agreement with AFL building construction unions.

Hillman asserted that a CIO contract signed by the P. J. Currier Lumber Company, low bidder on a Wayne, Mich., housing project, was not a bona fide labor agreement and was adopted "for some ulterior purpose."

A. D. Lewis, a brother of President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, charged that Hillman's office was being used as "a recruiting agency for the AFL in connection with defense projects' As he condemned the failure of the government to award the Currier Company the Michigan contract on its bid, which the company claimed was $431,000 below the next best offer.

He said the Office of Production Management was engaged in "an unlawful conspiracy to use the powers of government on behalf of one branch of labor against another." He said the agreement "assured a closed shop agreement for the AFL on all government defense construction projects."

Army Air Force Of 400,000 Men By June Sought

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson announced war department preparations today to expand the army air forces to 400,000 flying cadets and enlisted men by next June 30, nearly tripling their present strength.

"Subsequent expansion, possibly to the 500,000 level, is possible beyond that date," Stimson said.

The present organization of the air forces is based on 54 combat groups, whereas the enlarged program calls for 84 such groups, each composed of several squadrons.

The secretary said the 54-group undertaking was "well on its way" but not yet completed.

Congress was told the original program provided for a force of 25,000 planes, but Stimson declined to state how many of these were

FIGHTING AND EXPERIENCED LEADER SUCCEEDS MARSHAL TIMOSHENKO IN MOSCOW

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, 7 p. m. Oct. 22.—(Delayed)—(AP)—The position of the Red army line near Maloyaroslavets, 65 miles southwest of Moscow, was described in front line dispatches tonight as serious but the Russians were said to have launched counter attacks in an effort to stem the nazi drive.

Elsewhere along the Moscow front defenders of the Soviet capital were reported holding firm, with the centers of fighting still near Maloyaroslavets, Mozhaisk, 57 miles west of the capital, and Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of Moscow.

Both sides were reported rushing up reinforcements—the Germans moving up more elite guard regiments and the Red army pouring in tank-borne infantry.

The Red Army supreme command on the Western front, it was disclosed earlier today, has been entrusted to General Gregory K.

HALLOWE'EN ISN'T WHAT IT WAS IN DAYS OF YORE; DALLAS COPS GET READY FOR STRENUOUS TIME

DALLAS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Hallowe'en isn't.

Not any more, it isn't. Take Dallas for example. The police here are already girding their Sam Brownes in grim, though hardly eager, anticipation.

Hallowe'en is eight days away, but the authorities have begun their annual warnings. They speak omniously of heavy hands to be laid on individuals who overstep the bounds.

Mayor Woodall Rodgers is conjuring up phrases about law and order. He said the police department has been instructed to arrest all and sundry who interfered with private property. Presumably he didn't mean that public property would be fair game, either.

The righteous indignation of the gendarmes, asserted His Honor, awaited those who seriously disturbed the orderly conduct of traffic or inflicted bodily injury upon others.

"Not only will such persons be arrested, but they will be brought to trial and adequately penalized if they are found guilty," the mayor declared.

"Past Hallowe'en celebrations have been marked by unnecessary vandalism and rowdyism," he continued, putting it mildly.

"They have brought discredit to the city and make a Donnybrook Fair of an ancient religious festival."

In order to put emphasis on this ruling against the hardheadedly vandalistic, Police Chief J. M. Welch ordered every member of the force to be on duty Hallowe'en.

More squad cars are available to patrol the city, the chief remarked. To show the need for same, he pointed out that last year 277 street lamps were smashed, and it cost $335 to repair them.

Furthermore, street car service was disrupted by youngsters who greased the tracks, broke car windows with rocks and smeared cars with fruit and elderly eggs.

Chief Welch listed some things he isn't going to let people do: 1. Possess firearms, not even a cap pistol. 2. Wear masks or indecent costumes. (Lady Godiva's ghost please note.) 3. Get drunk. 4. Exceed the speed limit. And other stuff, to-wit:

The police will make an example of somebody if they can catch anybody in a false fire alarm.

A hot time in the old town notwithstanding.

Nazi Ultimatum To French Upon Officer Killing

VICHY, Usoccupied France, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The French people must turn over to German authorities the two slayers of Lieut. Col. Paul Friedrich Hotz, chief of the German field gendarmerie in Nantes, by midnight (5 p. m. E.S.T.) today, or 50 more Frenchmen must pay with their lives for Hotz's death.

Those are the terms of the German ultimatum upon the French as the assassination of a second German officer within 48 hours, a juridical counselor at Bordeaux, caused the arrest of another 100 and raised the grim prospect of still further executions.

German troops segregated Nan-

ESTABLISHMENT OF AN ALLIED FRONT IN CAUCASUS SUPPORTED BY RAIL AND ROADS PROGRAM

By DEWITT M'KENZIE

There is much food for reflection in British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's statement in the House of Commons that a large-scale road and railway-making organization of American engineers is being treated and that this will be immensely important in view of the British-Russian communications through Iran (Persia.)

This strongly supports the probability of the establishment of an allied front in the Caucasus, as this column forecast yesterday. Such a front easily may provide the base for a grand offensive against Germany from the rear. Before that happens, however, there is likely to be bloody fighting as Hitler tries to seize the oil fields of the Caucasus and drive his way into the strategic middle east through Percia or Turkey, or both.

All this to my mind means that sooner or later—undoubtedly sooner—Britain is going to appeal to the United States to send an expeditionary force to the Middle East.

But, somebody protests, the United States isn't in the war! Fiddle-de-dee. Wendell L. Willkie finds the answer to that one in the current Look Magazine when he says "The United States is already in the war and has been for some time."

In Water, Anyway.

True, our operations are restricted, but we can't argue that we aren't in the water merely because we are in only up to our waists and not up to our necks. It strikes me that a lot of folk will be much easier in mind of they recognize this fact and stop trying to extract comfort from a hair-splitting technicality. It will save a shock when the time comes that we suddenly do find ourselves in up to our necks.

Britain has no need for American troops in England—hasn't room for them for that matter, ecause there are 4,000,000 men of all categories actually or technically under arms there.

Someone raised the question with me yesterday as to whether American soldiers wouldn't be needed in an invasion of Western Europe, and the answer to that is "No." As a high British army officer remarked to me, there aren't sufficient ships in the whole world to transport enough American soldiers and equipment and supplies

NEW PATRIOTISM SEEKS FIT CITIZENS FOR BETTER WORLD*

Deeper Undercurrents of Day's Life Recognize Basic Needs in Character — A General on Morale — The Highest Demonstration of Democracy.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

What I ha' seen since ocean-steam began
Leaves me no doubt for the machine: but what about the man?
—Kipling's "McAndrew's Hymn."

No question that is debated in Congress or Parliament is half so important and urgent as the question of fit folk for the emergency. Every other problem roots down into this greater one of prepared patriots. The quality of the timber with which we build the nation anew is our primary concern. "What about the man?" is a query that goes beyond all matters of money and machinery for war.

Gravest of all the criticism that may be directed against the people of North America in this greatest crisis in the world's history is the charge that they are not awake to the seriousness of the hour and are not, in their own character and conduct, prepared to meet the demands of this life-and-death issue.

Our major interests, it would seem, are outside of this war, which is bound to affect all our interests. We grumble at the rising costs of living, and at new taxes, but still we do not perceive that the price that everyone must pay for the redemption of the race is far more personal and revolutionary. We cannot continue in our present mood of frivolity, of self-pleasing, of impenitence, of carelessness and of materialism, if we really mean to carry on the present world struggle to the only conclusion that is compatible with humanity's best ideals.

Fit Folk First.

So fit folk are the first need—fit to achieve, fit to endure, fit to aspire, fit to deny. Life has got to be lifted up to a higher plane of self-denial and of self-betterment, for the common well-being. The person who has never learned to subordinate a desire to a duty is still in the infantile stage. This giving up for the sake of going up is an entail of democracy and religion. Christianity's stern test is that a man shall deny himself, and take up his cross. Self-sacrifice underlies and climaxes the life of our Leader.

Against totalitarianism in all of its forms—Nazism, Fascism, Communism, Japanism—we must oppose a patriotism which stands for the old Christian ideals of self-sacrifice, of brotherly love and of loyalty to the will of our common Father. In a recent book, "You Can Defend America," the situation is summarized:—"The fight is on. The fight against our softness, graft, laziness, extravagance, buck-passing, materialism—allies of the 'fifth column.' The battle line runs through every home, every office, every factory, every farm. It is a daily battle. It takes courage. Imagination. You've got to be tough inside. You've got to think hard, and live clean."

A Statesman Speaks.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox wrote a poem in which she classified humanity into two groups, "lifters and "learners." Some of us bear society's burdens; and others of us are burdens for society to bear. We have over-many of the latter. The present emergency is a clarion call for "lifters," mature spirits who will exert whatever power is necessary to promote the common welfare.

In an address before the Southern Baptist Convention, Congressman Joseph W. Bryson put the matter tersely in its meaning for American citizens: "Support to the utmost whatever serves to increase our national strength and unity; oppose to the utmost whatever serves to destroy our national strength and unity."

The Congressman went on to apply this principle to the increasingly important issue of alcohol:—"The time has come, and it is later than you think, for the American people firmly to assert their opposition to the liquor traffic. These truths are held to be self evident: First, alcohol wastes national wealth needed for national defense. Second, alcohol saps the strength of man-power essential to national defense. Third, alcohol undermines the spiritual and moral forces which must sustain the efforts of men and women when the hour of greatest national crisis comes."

One Day for Reform.

Our theme of personal fitness is accented by this assigned Lesson, which recognizes "International Temperance Sunday." All over the world, in pulpits, press and Sunday School classes, it is being pointed out that intemperance is a factor in weakening the fibre of public character. A French statesman has attributed the fall of France largely to over-indulgence in alcohol. The German nation has greatly restricted the use of its once-popular drink. A striking dispatch from London in The New York Times reports the latest findings of the Canteens Department of the military, naval and air forces. During the previous war, 98 per cent of the total sales at the army canteens was of beer. Today only 5 per cent of the turnover of the canteens is in beer. So popular are "soft drinks" that soda fountains are being installed on some British warships.

Without priggishness or piosity or pharisaism, we have got to face the part that temperance must play in any tempered life. We must free the cause from fanaticism, while ever pressing the ages-old truth that the net result of indulgence in alcohol is evil, and not good; it hurts rather than helps, the individual and society. With reasonableness, and scientific accuracy, and from highest moral principles, we should now, in a period of gravest emergency, be intensifying the battle against booze.

The Matter of Morale.

General Marshall, head fo the United States forces, is quoted as saying that morale is to equipment as three to one. That is to say, the spirit of the soldier is more important than his gun. So the state of mind of the people as a whole far transcends in importance all measures, economic, social and military, that now engross the public mind. Our real struggle is for fitness. We need to accept anew the higher loyalties.

Far back in the beginning of the Old Testament—it is part of the day's assigned Scripture—we have a divinely-given program for this better life: the only program that assures the cooperation of God:—"Ye shall observe to do therefore as the Lord your God hath commanded you: ye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. Ye shall walk in all the ways which the Lord your God hath commanded you, that ye may live, and that it may be well with you, and that ye may prolong your days in the land which ye shall possess."

TEXAS COMMERCIAL VEGETABLES AIDED BY GOOD WEATHER

AUSTIN, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Good growing weather aided Texas commercial vegetables during the first half of October.

The U. S. Agricultural Marketing Service reported rains came to part of the dry-land sections that were deficient in surface moisture and enabled growers to do some planting.

Progress of early fall crops was satisfactory except in lower valley where showers and general rains wer too numerous.

Because of limited labor, planting of winter crops was expected to be slow. Workers were engaged almost exclusively in working fall crops.

The vegetable crop reports shaped up like this:

Snap Beans: A good start was made in early October but setbacks were caused by worm damage in the winter garden and by too much rain in sections of the lower valley.

Beets: Seeding for mid-season harvest continued light. The lower valley crop was later than usual.

Cabbage: Transplanting in the lower valley was begun but volume was limited because of limited help.

Onions: Seed beds in good condition but some secttions report light germination and considerable worm damage.

Spinach: Early supplies will come from the winter garden and Eagle Pass districts. Planting in the lower valley wast just beginning.

Tomatoes: A light picking will begin in the winter garden late this month. The Laredo section will start harvesting early in November and the lower valley crop should be ready in mid-November.

LOCAL RED CROSS REPRESENTATIVES AT REGIONAL MEETING

PLANS BEING MADE TO SECURE LARGEST STATE RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP

Mrs. R. B. Mitchell, executive secretary, and Mrs. A. E. Haslam, volunteer home service worker, Navarro county chapter, American Red Cross, represented the local chapter at the first of four regional conferences, within the state, at Tyler Tuesday when representatives from more than 60 counties in the east-central area were called as the first major step in formulating plans for securing the largest state Red Cross membership since World War days. The other conferences will be at Austin, Oct. 23; Big Suring, Oct. 27, and El Paso, Oct. 29.

Rev. Harry Sarles, chairman of the Port Arthur chapter, spoke on "What the Red Cross Means to Texas;" John C. Wilson, assistant to the manager of the Midwestern area, St. Louis, discussed "The Accomplishments of Nine Million Members;" Miss Ada Miller, executive secretary of Dallas county chapter, gave an outstanding paper on "The Red Cross Will Not Fail the Armed Forces," and Miss Ivy O. Hendricks, assistant to the director of Junior Red Cross, spoke most interestingly on "The Place of Youth in the Red Cross."

The featured address of the conference, however, was delivered at th luncheon at the Blackstone Hotel by Hon. Fred A. Winfrey, acting manager of the Midwestern branch office, which stressed the responsibilities imposed upon the Red Cross by congress in the matter of serving the armed forces of our country, both active and home defense, and the need for more members, and more money if those responsibilities are to be met adequately.

Showing of the films, "We Won't Forget," "Marching With Old Glory," and "Under Two Flags" added interest to the meeting.

Kerens PTA Met In Opening Session Of Season on Tuesday

KERENS, Oct. 22.—(Spl.)—Kerens Parent-Teacher Association opened the current year's work with a lovely program tea, held Tuesday, October 22, in the homemaking cottage on the school campus.

The new president, Mrs. H. J. Newsome, held the chair for the business session, and welcomed faculty members and guests, after which Jack Poff, high school principal, introduced the new teachers, who rose and were recognized.

Mrs. Charles Reese, program chairman, presented A. S. Pritchard, grammar school superintendent, who made an explanatory talk on the new 12 grade system.

A quartet, composed of Messrs. Howard Noland, Duncan, and Misses Stell and Thomas, next gave pleasing selections "A Capella."

Concluding number was by Miss Gypsy Glo Coates, assistant speech instructor at Trinity University, daughter of Mrs. J. E. McCluney, and a graduate of the Kerens school. Miss Coates, who is an artist of note, delighted all present with her delightful rendition of "Tom Sawyer's Love Affair," as recounted by Mark Twain.

Hospitality chairman, Mrs. Grover Crawford, invited guests to come in groups and be served from the dining room table, laid with linen cover, and decorated with a huge Autumn arrangement of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums, tithonias, fern and pyracantha berries, whose holder was a hollowed out pumpkin, resting on a bed of green leaves, with the yellow berries clustered at intervals.

Clar punch was served with dainty sugar cookies, with Mrs. Newsome pouring.

Room count was won by the fifth grade.

REHABILITATION OF DESTITUTE FARMERS TOLD TO ROTARIANS

Rehabilitation of destitute farmers was discussed in an address by Gus Hill of Dallas, associate co-operative specialist of the Farm Security Administration, before the Corsicana Rotary Club Wednesday at the Navarro Hotel.

He pointed out that the purpose of the FSA is to eliminate as much as possible the large percentage of farmers in this country who are unabel to make a satisfactory living. This program includes those who are employed as tenant farmers as well as those who now fall in the class known as the migratory worker.

The government has recognized the fact that this large number of desperate citizens must be either fed or fought and it is electing to do the former. Much has been done thus far in rehabilitating these farmers, he said, and the work is going forward with excellent co-operation of all involved.

The FSA, he pointed out, is not a relief agency, but an organization established by the government to aid destitute farmers in purchasing their own farms through loans and co-operative activities.

Mr. Hill was introduced by Franklin Scale, program chairman.

WICKARD TO SUPPORT CEILING FOR FARM PRODUCTS AT 110

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Wickard gave his support today to price-control legislation which would authorize ceilings on farm products at not less than 110 per cent of parity, but declared that agricultural commodities were not too high yet.

Recalling trials of farmers growing out of inflationary and deflationary periods of the first World War, the secretary said:

"I do not believe that the American economy can stand a repetition of anything like that."

Wickard's statement was made before a house banking committee considering an administration-supported price control bill.

Wickard declared, however, that price control alone would not prevent inflation. As for agriculture, he said, the surest preventive was increased production. He said the agriculture department had inaugurated a program designed to give this country its greatest production of food and crops next year.

High School Gym and County Health Unit Endorsed by PTA

The Corsicana High School Parent-Teacher Association endorsed unamimously the establishment of the proposed county health unit and the erection of a high school gymnasium at the meeting on Tuesday afternoon.

All members of the organization, together with members of all Parent-Teacher associations of the city and county, were urged to meet on Thursday morning at the courthouse to discuss the health unit. The meeting has been called for 10 o'clock in the county courtroom, and all interested persons and officials of the entire county are requested to be present.

It has been pointed out that if such a health unit be established in Navarro county, the federal government will likely construct a health center building costing some $38,000, with the sponsor's part approximately $6,500 per year.

A representative of the state health department has been invited to appear before the county commissioners' meeting on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, and physicians, representatives of women's clubs, charitable organizations, Parent-Teacher associations, city and county authorities are invited to attend.

KERENS AND FROST ELEVENS ARE TOPS IN DISTRICT 21-B STANDINGS

Kerens Bobcats and Frost Polar Bears are the top clubs in the A and B divisions, respectively, in the District 21-B race at the present time. Neither's lead will be affected this week-end as both plan nonconference tilts. The Bobcats invade Groesbeck to clash with the strong Goats while the Bears invade Italy to oppose the Gladiators. Frost and Italy have been strong rivals for many years.

Other tilts carded this week include Hubbard at Coolidge. This is a non-conference game, but is between two ancient athletic rivals—a gridiron feud that began years before the University of Texas Interscholastic league was formed.

In the only conference game in the A division, Blooming Grove Lions meet the Dawson Bulldogs at Dawson Friday night.

Milford invades Trinidad for a B division conference clash, while Crandall invades Mildred Friday afternoon.

Last Week's Results:

Hubbard 20, Italy 0 (A division)

Dawson 13, Mildred 0.

Kerens 21, Blooming Grave 0 (A division.)

Frost 19, Hilsiboro "B" 0.

Trinidad 33, Milford 0 (B division.)

STANDINGS

A Division.

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Kerens	2	0	1.000
Hubbard	2	1	.750
Dawson	1	1	.500
Italy	1	1	.500
Blooming Grove	0	3	.000

B Division.

Frost	2	0	1.000
Mildred	1	1	.500
Trinidad	1	1	.500
Milford	0	2	.000

Frost can clinch the B division with a win over Trinidad, Nov. 20. Non-conference games are carded in the remaining weeks until the Trinidad. If that game is lost, the Bears will still be in a tie.

Kerens can cinch a tie with one more win.

The A and B division champions play for the district title and the right to compete in bi-district play.

Italy won the district flag last year while Kerens won the two previous years.

THERE GOES A TIRE!

... but why junk the car?

Any car can have a blowout in a tire. But you wouldn't junk the car. You'd just fix the tire—or replace it.

That's very much like a situation that exists in the retailing of beer. Beer retailing has its "flat tires," too—retailers who disobey the law or who permit unsavory conditions.

To protect your right to drink good beer, we of the beer industry want to eliminate the few "flat tire" retailers. Here's another reason: Right here in Texas, beer has provided employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and paid $2,273,968.64 in state taxes last year.

The state, too, has an important stake in the beer industry's purchases—for material, equipment and services—from more than 100 other industries.

Those benefits are worth preserving. You can help us preserve them by patronizing only the reputable and legal places where beer is sold and by reporting any law violations you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

CONQUEST AND CORRUPTION.

An evil force is at work in Germany, worse than military defeat. It is the morale disintegraton that comes from the Nazi method of conquest. A report made by Adolf A. Berle, Jr., in an address to the Harvard Graduate School of Business, shows painfully how the loss of public morality involved in a war of conquest is accompanied by a corresponding loss of private morality. While the state grabs what it wants, individuals do likewise.

Every bit of information reaching him, says Mr. Berle, "shows the growing stream of corruption which has entered the Nazi-controlled life in Germany."

"The little politicians have minor licenses to loot—the loot of Jewish victims or other refugees. The great politicians have their cut in practically every business within the conquered area. These, as well as part of the so-called guaranteed profits of German business men, roll in to swell the huge fortunes of Nazi leaders. Nothing is too small to escape attention. Shops in conquered Paris have been asked to accept a German partner and later to hand over their names, their reputations and their future into the hands of a military conqueror.

"Eventually, of course, this crookedness will destroy the German machine and everything in it. But it behooves us to use every effort lest it destroy the world, and ourselves with it, before it finally crashes."

THE USELESS GAR.

Sportsmen and commercial fishermen in Illinois, and no doubt in other states, wish that scientific research would discover some use for the gar pike, considered by most of them to be the fish public enemy No. 1. Nobody knows what human fishers suffer from this creature, they say. It seems to be a survival from prehistoric times, ugly, useless and destructive. The gar steals bait, preys voraciously upon better fish, devours their food, and outnumbers them in some places as much as 12 to one.

There must be something science can do with gar pike, such as converting it into fish oil for tankage, food for cats and dogs, fertilizer, or something. Perhaps special treatment might even make it fit for human consumption. Once it was known to have commercial value it would be sought in quantities and its end hastened.

A description of the gar mentions its protective coat of scaly armor plate that will turn aside light caliber bullets, unless the hit is a square one. Perhaps that is a hint as to the line of the gar pike's usefulness. That tough hide might come in handy in some form of military equipment.

For sheer nerve, we doff our hats to Arthur H. Starnes, veteran American air pilot, who for scientific purposes is going to jump from a plane at 35,000 feet and drop six miles before opening his parachute.

How about this bit of logic? "No man could be as smart as Hitler seems to be; there must be somebody else back of him."

When we go to war, it's for big reasons, but we often pretend it's for trifles.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1937. Edgar A. Guest)

THE DREAMER.

Once when I was very small
I looked at shadows on the wall
And always fancied them to be
Great sailing vessels on the sea.

I used to watch them slip from port
And hear the whistles, long and short.
I fancied it was me they bore
To Portsmouth or to Singapore.

Oh, such a dreamy boy was I
My ceiling seemed to be the sky
And through my window, miles afar,
I followed moon and evening star.

Though half a century has flown
The sea still claims me for its own
And still before to sleep I slip,
For Singapore I often ship.

The little boy that used to be
Who once was I still goes to sea
And sails the billows vast and deep
Until at last he falls asleep.

SHUTTLING PLANES.

Another triumph over space and time was achieved the other day when one of our four-motored army bombers flew from the British Gold Coast in West Africa, across the South Atlantic to Brazil, a distance of 3,400 miles, in the daylight of one day. It is said to be the greatest distance ever flown between sunrise and sundown.

Our country, which invented the art of flying but carelessly lost the leadership in this field, is now coming into its own again. We shall probably have, before long, not only the best flyers and planes in the world, but the most of them, shuttling over all the seas and continents.

Even now distance seems to matter less than route. Who would have imagined, a few years ago, that we should now be cheerfully flying war planes down to Brazil and across to central Africa, for delivery to Egypt and Persia—where the Magic Carpet of the Arabian Nights originated? Soon, too, we shall be ferrying warplanes with the same nonchalance from American factories up across the Arctic to Russia and by another Great Circle westward to Siberia.

DID WE DO IT?

One of the latest outgivings of Herr Goebbels, Nazi propaganda chief, is a tirade of hate against America and Britain for "forcing Germany to take up arms against Russia."

We Americans must dumbly admit that "we don't get it." We have been thinking, in our simple-minded way, that attacking Russia with everything he had was Hitler's own idea. We were especially convinced that he himself planned the job, because he had just made a treaty of everlasting friendship with Russia. Such Nazi pledges are usually fatal to the other party.

Just the same, we may feel complimented. If we really did, by wishful but unconscious though waves, move Hitler to turn eastward against Russia, it was a good psychic job. For Hitler's eastern army now seems to be wearing itself out as Napoleon's did, and both the Reds and the Democracies may profit by it.

NO MORE FIRE BELLS

It would grieve the spirit of Edgar Allen Poe, who rang all possible changes on bells, to learn of the decision of the OPM at Washington to take the bells off the fire engines. This is done, like so many other things, to save material for national defense.

We must be defended against fire, to be sure, but the experts say the ordinary siren is adequate for the job. "Fire engines will be able to get to fires just as fast," we are told, "and will be able to fight the fires just as efficiently after they get there. The chief difference is that they won't look so gaudy going and coming."

Maybe so. Still it seems a pity. Children will miss them. And so will grown-ups.

A lot of Americans, like the ancient Medes and Persians, seem to think it's against the law to repeal foolish laws.

GRAND CHAMPION MILKING COW HERE SELLS HIGH PRICE

A former grand champion Milking Shorthorn cow from the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show brought a record price at auction price at the Dallas fair last week, W. F. Eckhardt of Wortham, a breeder of this type livestock, related Tuesday morning.

The cow, 1939 Corsicana champion, owned by George Bounds of Wortham, was purchased by E. E. Fogelson of Dallas for $500 to add to his recently established herd. A month-old bull calf brought $125.

A. H. Maullin of Frost is reported to have purchased a fifteen-months-old bull at the auction for $205.

TEXAS NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN SAYS WAR IS INEVITABLE

Declaring that war is inevitable, E. B. Germany of Dallas, national Democratic committeeman from Texas and district chairman of the USO, asserted in a prepared address delivered before the Corsicana Lions club Tuesday that the spirit of sacrifice must be rekindled in the hearts of the American people if the national defense effort is to succeed.

Introduced by Jay Silverberg of Corsicana, state treasurer of the USO, Mr. Germany decried the lack of co-operation and enthusiasm noted thus far in the re-armament of the nation but asserted that the people are recognizing the inevitability of war and are emerging from their state of confusion.

He asserted that there is no place for party politics in this gigantic effort and declared that no citizen should be fanatic toward anything but the love of country.

USO Construction.

He pointed out that construction of USO recreation centers for soldiers is now in progress under the direct supervision of the War Department. After these centers are constructed, he said, the USO will take over and provide a competent staff to maintain and carry out the program decided upon.

The speaker paid tribute to the flag as a symbol of the combined efforts of a great people since the time of George Washington at Valley Forge. Mr. Germany asserted that there's a job for everyone in this huge undertaking and called upon the people for personal sacrifice to insure its success. The civilian population must not ask the soldiers to do anymore than they are willing to do themselves, he concluded.

President F. H. Harvey, Jr., presided. Jay Silverberg and Rev. A. A. Peacock had charge of the program. President Harvey appointed Dr. W. T. Shell, Jr., and Dr. P. E. Riley as program committee for the next meeting.

Number of Guests.

Guests today included John Thorwald, W. E. Bradford, C. C. Isbell, superintendent of the Ennis schools; J. D. King, Jr., Ennis; Deen Allen, Homer McElroy, Ennis; Jake Hudson, County Judge E. D. McCormick, Pat H. Ramsey, Mayor John C. Calhoun, and Fred Prince.

Alton Justiss, club secretary, announced that net receipts derived from the recent Lions Club Charity football game at Tiger Field, amounted to $191.90. On a motion mad by Boyce Martin, $75.00 of the amount was appropriated for the annual Lions Club sponsored Christmas tree at the YMCA for underprivileged children. Remainder of the fund will be used by the sight conservation committee to purchase glasses for needy school children.

Dewey Kennedy, conducting the Lions Club sponsored rat-extermination campaign, reported that several thousand rats have been eradicated in the drive thus far with an initial cost of only $38.67.

HUNDREDS CITIZENS WATCHED "BATTLE" OF DEFENSE GUARDS

With hundreds of people looking on while sirens screamed and fireworks exploded, members of the Corsicana Home Guard unit staged a sham battle for possession of the old National Guard armory here Monday night.

Defending forces under command of Lieut. E. R. Bonner successfully held the building against the attacks of the second platoon under Lieut. L. S. Keen.

The attackers succeeded in one assault in forcing the defenders from the lower floor of the building by use of gas, but the patrol staging the assault was forced back with a high toll of presumed casualties. However, the presence of gas made fighting in the lower secttion impossible for either the attacking or defending forces. Much patrol activity featured the contest, carried out under constant chatter of firecrackers, which represented machine guns and blank ammmunition in sidearms.

Major Festus A. Pierce, commanding this battalion area, together with regular army officers here on leave, were umpires.

Firing began at 8:20 o'clock and successive attacks were launched until the decisive action at 8:55 o'clock. Most of the assaulting forces were wiped out by the alert defenders, having only one machine gun nest left at the end of hostilities. In an effort to eliminate this last obstacle, the defenders suffered the loss of a strong patrol when it was cut off and theoretically annihilated after disabling all but two of the machine-gunners.

Major Pierce stated that additonal manuevers would be conducted in the near future, and pointed out that tentative plans call for a joint action of the entire four companies in this battalion area.

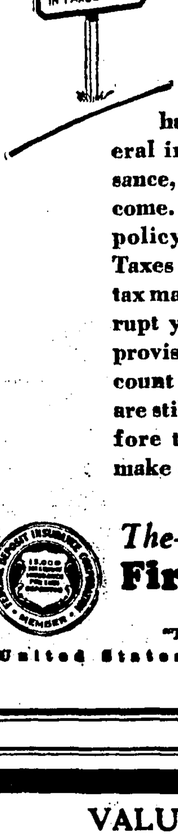

Captain Joe Daniel, member of the battalian staff, said that one of these proposed maneuvers includes a sham battle for the power plant at Trinidad involving the whole battalion.

Two White Youths Held in Connection Window Burglary

Two white youths were taken in custody Monday by city officers in connection with the burglarizing of a show window at the M. Evans store recently. Three knives taken from the window were reported recovered along with a bicycle reported missing over the week-end.

The youths are scheduled to be transferred to county authorities.

in service or how many were contemplated under the enlarged program.

"This new plan means we have reached the point where our air forces are expanding very rapidly," he told a press conference.

The war department said in detailing the air expansion that the training program required would make the army air forces "one of the world's largest universities for applied science," with a total of more than 100 flying and technical schools in operation.

The training program already is operating with a goal of 30,000 pilots and 100,000 technicians a year.

The expansion will not affect existing organization of the army air forces, which are composed of the air force combat command and the air corps. Some of the newly-created combat groups will be assigned to overseas departments for the combat command which operates either alone or in support of ground and naval forces.

INTERNATIONAL

energy," the new Red commander was credited by the Russians with having already tightened Moscow's defenses.

Timoshenko was reported transferred to another post.

German transport planes were reported landing light tanks, armored cars and small field guns behind the Soviet lines, while Stuka bombers carried out mass raids on Red army communication lines.

Break Through Despite Weather.

A bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters said the breakthrough was made on a broad front despite severe weather conditions.

"Rain or snow by day, and freezing conditions at night" prevailed over the whole battlefront, according to word received in London.

Latest Soviet military dispatches acknowledge that the Germans had scored a slight advance in the Maloyaroslavets sector, 95 miles southwest of Moscow, pushing toward the village of "V" from which they had been driven by an earlier Russian counter-attack.

But the Russians declared they were holding fast in the critical Mozhaisk sector, 57 miles west of Moscow, halting a thrust by Nazi tanks, and that Red troops were counter-attacking heavily against the jaws of the German pincer at Orel, 200 miles south of the capital, and at Kalinin, 85 miles northwest.

On Ukraine Front.

Bitter street fighting was reported raging in a city designated only as "N," where six days of house to house combat were said to have already cost the Germans 3,800 killed and wounded, 48 tanks, 80 motorcycles and 15 guns.

On the Ukraine front, Soviet dispatches reported the outbreak of fierce new fighting at the approaches to the Crimea peninsula, site of Russia's big Black Sea naval base on Sevastopol.

Besides dropping troops behind the Red army lines, German planes were reported bombing Moscow day and night in an attempt to "soften up" Russian morale.

The Germans admitted, however, that Soviet troops were battling with stubborn ferocity and that Nazi divisions freed after mopping-up operations on the Bryansk battlefields had been sent up as reinforcements for the immediate drive on Moscow.

In the south, Nazi dispatches said 900 German tanks had led the assault against Soviet defenses of the Crimea.

Texarkana Site For Defense Housing Is Given Approval

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Approval of a 54-acre site for a 400-dwelling defense housing project at Texarkana, Texas, for families of workers to be employed at the Shell loading plant and ammunition depot there was announced today by the Federal works Agency.

The property is bounded on the west by Robinson Lake, south by the Texas and Pacific railroad, east and north by private property and one the west by Fifteenth St.

The FWA said Texarkana officials had agreed to extend the corporate lines to take in the site.

The United States Housing Authority was instructed to take options on the site pending appropriation by congress of additional funds for defense housing.

GEN. ZHUKOV

Zhukov, supplanting Marshal Semeon Timoshenko.

Zhukov, chief of the Soviet general staff and commander of the Western Army before Moscow, was praised by Pravda, the communist party newspaper, as a "fighting, experienced leader" and as a soldier of "immense energy."

There was no report here for a new post for Timoshenko.

(An authoritative source in London said Timoshenko had been transferred to another post but said he could not divulge the nature of his new assignment.)

(After the German invasion began last June 22, Premier Stalin divided responsibity for the defense among a triumvirate of Marshals—Timoshenko in the center, flanked by Klementorshilov on the north, entrusted now with the defense of Leningrad, and Semeon Budyenny, commanding the hard-pressed southern wing of the Red army in the Ukraine.

Stalin announced Sunday Zhukov's new appointment and said he should have charge of "defense and policing at the approaches of Moscow." At the same time Lieutenant General Artemiev was assigned to command the city's garrison. Nothing, however, was said of Timoshenko.)

Moscow was described as an armed camp with strong reserve forces in it and its environs. Military dispatches giving the latest survey of the situation said the Germans had moved forward slightly x x x pushing toward the village of "V" from which they had been rejected earlier by Russian counter-attack x x x.

(A Moscow radio broadcast of the Soviet Bureau of Information's mid-day communique said "during the night of Oct. 22-23 our troops engaged the enemy along the entire front."

(That was the only picture the communique geve of the major fighting situation.)

requires more oil, it will be had," Culberson said.

The order was also signed by Jerry Sadler, third member of the commission, which regulates the oil industry in Texas.

"The order which we are releasing today provides for the production of 1,533,283 barrels of oil per day," Thompson said.

"If the bureau of mines estimate of market demand is correct, this production will allow us to rebuild our storage at the rate of 24,918 barrels per day.

"This is a wise precaution at this season of the year so we may rebuild our stocks against the spring demand which apparently is going to be surprisingly high.

"The bureau of mines estimates a 13 per cent incerase for this November as against November, 1940.

"We have provided in this order the full allowable to meet the bureau of mines' estimate of market demand and build up stocks.

"In times like these, it is well to have a surplus on hand.

"I thoroughly agree with the wisdom of the order and am glad we have an unanimous commission on this order."

The Panhandle district, which in October was shut down for only four days, in the new order was put on the same basis as the rest of the state.

However, Culberson said in a recent special order prescribing a new basis of allocation in the Panhandle would give that area larger production, despite the greater number of shutdowns than it would have had with fewer closings and the old plan of allocation.

Comparative basic allowables by districts on Sept. 1, Oct. 1 and Nov. 1 were:

Southwest Texas, 318,328, 321,950 and 322,266.

Gulf Coast, 357,027, 357,359 and 351,567.

East Central Texas, 95,003, 94,757 and 96, 518.

East Texas, 511,223, 511,422 and 511,422 (approximate.)

West Central Texas, 58,545, 57,864 and 59,528.

West Texas, 347,043, 353,575 and 360,208.

North Texas, 150,296, 154,480 and 157,059.

Panhandle, 91,606, 114,060 and 116,244.

Fascist Press Not Pleased.

ROME, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Fascist press called United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull a "vulgar agent provacateur" today for his advocacy of neutrality act modifications.

"As a statesman and government figure, Hull is a frantic organizer of crimes, a sure instrument for the worst things for the most wretched undertakings," the newspaper Il Messaggero declared, contending that President Roosevelt gave him the job of hastening the United States into participation in the war.

DEFENSE PROBE

Maine, earlier had protested that Hillman was exercising "dangerous powers" by advising against the award of the Currier Company. He said he would urge immediate award of the contract despite Hillman's testimony he feared a "civil war" in Detroit labor ranks if that were done.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Senator Brewster (Rep.) of Maine, protested today that Sidney Hillman, director of labor relations for the defense program, was exercising "dangerous powers" by advising against award of a contract to a low bidder on a Wayne County, Mich., defense housing project.

Brewster, member of the senate committee investigating national defense, said he would urge that this controversial contract be awarded to the low bidder at once despite Hillman's testimony that he feared such action might cause a "civil war" in Detroit labor circles.

Hillman told the committee yesterday that the enterprises of P.

sending of American ships wherever necessary in delivering aid to nations fighting the axis.

Cudahy said British military leaders believed that the only way the war could be won "is by an invasion of Germany." Such an invasion, he declared, "would require at least 8,000,000 men from this country."

The former envoy remarked that "I was in Belgium when the Germans came in and I have seen the German army at close range. I know something about its might."

Another witness, John T. Flynn, a columnist, said in a statement that while the armed ship bill itself was not important it was "one item in a collection or series of operations, the effect of which is to creat a state of war."

reported extremely bad weather along the whole line of battle today and indicated that the Russians were defending Moscow with great tenacity.

Close to Moscow.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The German radio, quoting military quarters in Berlin, said today that German troops are so close to Moscow at several places that the city probably is now within range of heavy German artillery.

This statement was offered as a supplement to the high command announcement that German forces were within 100 kilometers (38 miles) of the Soviet capital.

German Air Raids.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—(AP)—German combat planes sank a 1,500-ton freighter, damaged a large merchantman and struck at the British harbor areas of Birkenhead and Great Yarmouth overnight, the high command said today.

J. Currier of Detroit, low bidder on the job, had been operated on a non-union basis except for a brief interval, and that Currier at one time was engaged in a "bitter fight" with the Detroit teamsters union.

"All these facts, Hillman testified, "indicated to the labor division that the experience of the Currier companies in their labor relations was such that serious consequences might result should this award be made to the Currier Company."

Brewster commented as the senate group asked Hillman to return for further testimony today on the subject.

Fifty persons already have been put to death for the killing of the commandant, the latest of reprisals in which Nazi retaliation squads have taken quick vengeance on 134 Frenchmen for the deaths of five members of the German occupation forces.

Must Take Stern Measures.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The execution of 50 hostages at Nantes and the holding of others at both Nantes and Bordeaux are stern measures which Germany must take to counteract this disturbances in France, authorized German sources said today, adding that these troubles were fostered in Britain.

It was asserted that German officials are being killed as a result of agitation directed from London.

"No country at war, with an occupation force in an enemy land, would tolerate having its officers assassinated," a spokesman declared.

Iceland's Cabinet Quits Over Rising Costs of Living

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Oct. 23.—(Delayed).—(AP)—Prime Minister Hermann Johnasson and his coalition cabinet of four resigned today because of a disagreement over policy toward a war-engendered rise in living costs of neutral Iceland.

The resignation came after a parliamentary crisis forced by the progressive party's attempt to pass a bill to control prices, which are rising rapidly as a result of the occupation by British and United States troops.

The ministers had governed Iceland since April 18, 1939.

STRIKES

in western Pennsylvania. The captive mines are operated by the H. C. Frick Coke Company (A subsidiary of the U. S. Steel Company), the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, and Bethlehem, Weirton, Wheeling, Crucible and Republic Steel Companies.

Chairman William H. Davis of the mediation board said a recommendation in the case would be made by Saturday.

Alabama coal mine operators met last night with representatives of the CIO United Mine Workers for a discussion of the union's demands: An increase of 40 cents a day above the present basic wage of $5.50, paid vacations, and changes in the methods of computing coal weight loss because of washing operations.

Recommends Wage Increase.

The defense mediation board has recommended a wage increase of 25 cents a day, retroactive to May 1, with an additional 15 cent increase to be granted when conditions warrant. The board's other payment of four cents a ton for washer loss.

While the Office of Production Management appealed to workers and management to avoid "interruption of work by strikes or slowdowns" in "these days when material on the battlefield is everything", there were these developments in the defense labor situation:

Pittsburgh: A decision to mediate averted for the present a threatened general strike of 250,000 AFL craftsmen in the Pittsburgh industrial area.

Seattle: About 1,300 welders and burners, members of a newly organized independent union, struck at a number of shipyards, holding up defense orders at the Seattle-Tacoma shipbuilding plant, the Todd-Seattle Dry Dock, Inc., and elsewhere along the waterfront. The Independent union demands the reinstatement of 177 welders at the Lake Washington shipyard, who were pulled off the job Monday by the Seattle Metal Trades Council (AFL), which acted under its closed shop contract with the yard.

San Diego, Calif.: Ryan Aeronautical Company and the United Aircraft Welders of America signed a labor contract for the duration of the presidentially proclaimed national emergency. Wage increases for the 100 welders covered were indicated, but no details of the agreement were released.

Aircraft Plant Trouble.

Buffalo, N. Y.: An impasse was reached in negotiations between CIO workers and the Bell Aircraft Corporation, which has fighter plane factories located at Buffalo and Niagara Falls. The union, which has authorized a strike, but has not set the date, seeks a general pay increase of 20 cents an hour, a minimum pay boost from 50 to 75 cents an hour, a union shop and the checkoff.

Chicago: President Roosevelt's special fact-finding board investigating the national railroad wage dispute, having concluded its hearings, will draw up its recommendations to be in the president's hands by midnight, Nov. 5.

Bendix, N. J.: A picket line which CIO officials said was composed of 3,000 union members today formed at the strike-affected Air Associates, Inc., plant which has $5,000,000 worth of aviation contracts. Irving Abramson, chairman of the state CIO council, said "we're going to keep this plant closed down until Washington takes some definite action." CIO unionists called the strike Sept. 30, accusing the company of unfair labor practices and refusal to sign a contract. The mediation board referred the case to President Roosevelt after failing to get a settlement.

Police Ordered On Duty.

DETROIT, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Michigan state police were ordered to guard approaches to the Ecorse plant of the Great Lakes Steel Corp. at 4 p. m. today when the management planned to resume operations despite a strike.

Capt. Laurence A. Lyon of state police said approximately 100 troopers drawn from southern Michigan posts would be on duty.

The plant has been idle for eight days since a walkout described by company and union officials as a "wildcat" strike halted production of vital defense material. Federal conciliators have been seeking a settlement.

The strikers, members of the steel workers organizing committee (CIO) rejected orders of their union leaders to return to work. In turn, union officials suspended strike leaders and rejected terms under which the strikers said they would end their walkout.

Archbishop Canterburry Approves.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The archbishop of Canterbury, approving aid for Russia, told Britain's house of lords today "there are some features of Communism compatible with Christianity," but added that could not be said of Nazism.

The aged archbishop, wearing knee-length frock and gaiters, said the British people were "comrades of the Russian army and people" in the battle against Germany.

He said that in the past he had protested against "oppressive tyrannies, cruelties and persecutions which marked, at the earlier stages, the Red revolution."

In recent years, however, he said, the Soviet government "has made many modifications and abandoned some of the mistakes of the earlier regime...."

Congressmen Assail Strikes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Three congressmen assailed strikes in national defense industries today, Representative Cox (D-Ga) terming the walkouts "the most disgraceful situation that ever existed in this country."

"And the shameful part about it is that neither the executive nor the legislative branches of the government are doing anything about it," Cox told the house. "The people are beginning to wonder who is their commander-in-chief, Franklin Roosevelt or John L. Lewis."

Representative Rich (R-Pa) accused "radical labor leaders" of causing strikes. Rich said Sidney Hillman, head of the labor division of OPM, was "more concerned over his own union than over the country."

"Representative Ford (R-Calif) said congress should be concerned over the 17 million work-days which he claimed had been lost because of strikes in defense work. Ford urged the house labor committee to report legislation designed to curb the walkouts.

of tanks and that the nation capable of building the most motors would win.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Members of the House of Commons in a war debate today suggested attacks on Italy, night landings on the continent by raiding parties and sending British troops to the Ukraine as a means of helping Russia.

Laborite Philip J. Noel-Baker, opening for the opposition in a full dress debate on the conduct of the war, declared Britain's frontier was now on the Volga and suggested that Britain's forces in the Middle East be sent to support the Russians in the Ukraine.

"This country is ready for any sacrifice to help the Russians," he declared. "The army wants to fight."

No longer the Rhine, but the Volga and Don are Britain's frontier, he said, expressing the belief that "the government's greatest mistake was not seeing the total identity of interests between our allies and ourselves."

While praising Prime Minister Churchill for refusing to discuss questions of strategy, he declared "there is deep and widespread anxiety about the war in Russia and what British forces have done to help Russia in her hour of need."

"We now have powerful forces in the Middle East," he said "and I believe our people would be very happy if some part of these forces could be sent to support Russian armies in the Ukraine."

Promised Material Assistance to Russia

LONDON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Lord Beaverbrook told the house of lords today that the United States and British missions to Russia had promised Joseph Stalin to make up Russia's losses in tanks and planes in the war against Germany by shipments from their two countries.

Beaverbrook, minister of supply and head of the British war aid mission to Moscow, declared that Russia has lost textile, munitions and heavy machine industries of Great value and compared the U.S.S.R.'s position to that of Britain after Dunkerque.

Stalin told the mission that the Germans had changed panzer tactics in the attacks on Russia by using small numbers of tanks with infantry instead of in masses, Beaverbrook said in a long review of the Moscow conference.

Beaverbrook, who recently returned from the Moscow consultations with Stalin and W. Averell Harriman, head of the American mission, disclosed that Stalin promised Great Britain raw materials from Russia to meet "many of our needs" and said the Russian leader "agreed to supply us with pitch, chrome, potash, magnesite, potassium, timber and canned salmon."

"We promised him aluminum, copper, lead, zinc, brass, phosphorus and shellac. ....The Americans promised oil and petrol from the United States and that was very gratifying.

"Stalin told us this war was being decided by tanks. He said it was a tank war. I asked him about aircraft, but he replied that it was essentially a tank war."

Beaverbrook said "we have made available the October quota of all things promised by us in the agreement signed in Moscow."

Lord Halifax Attacked.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, was the target of a vigorous attack by Laborite Aneurin Bevan today in a war debate in the house of commons.

Referring to remarks attributed to the ambassador on his return to the United States on Oct. 1, just before the great German attack west of Moscow, Bevan said:

"Lord Halifax informed Hitler in the plainest possible language when he was assembling his troops to attack Russia that he need fear no attacks from us....

"How far is a statement of that kind—when Hitler is gathering his forces—from high treason?

"The prime minister must get rid of some of these men or they will drag him down with them.

"The time has come for the reconstruction of the government and reconstruction of its policy."

RAF Raids Rhineland.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—British bombers raided the Rhineland, including the industrial center of Mannheim, and also attacked docks in the German-occupied French ports of Le Havre and Brest last night, the air ministry announced today.

Five planes are missing, it said.

The British raiders crossed flights with Germans who dropped bombs over North Wales and Merseyside during the night. A communique said three Nazi raiders were shot down.

CORSICANA YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION IN SESSION CHATFIELD

The Corsicana Young People's Union of the Methodist church held three regular monthly meetings at the Chatfield Methodist church Tuesday night, with 114 young people present, the largest attendance in many months.

After the program given by the young people of Rice and a short business session, a period of recreation was held. At the business session several important dates for future activities of the organization were made. It was voted that the November meeting be held at the North Corsicana Methodist church and the January meeting to be held at the First Metodist church all in Corsicana and that the annual banquet will be held in February at the Kerens Methodist church.

The Corsicana delegation led in the number of attendance with 20 from the Central Methodist church with Rev. Ross Smith pastor at the head of the delegation.

KIEV

There were no signs of street fighting in Kiev itself but in the outskirts some buildings had been shelled and others hit by machine-gun bullets.

On the western edge, a great forest had been hacked down and the trees piled up for barricades against the German tanks.

The five-day fire, which began Sept. 24, five days after the Germans raised their battle flags over Kiev's citadel, has presented a great problem in providing for the city's inhabitants. Normally there are 500,000 but was told 300,000 were shifted elsewhere as the German armies began closing in.

A German officer told me 50,000 lost their homes in the fire. Today, more than three weeks after the city's occupation, stores still are closed and street cars stand idly where they stopped when the Germans arrived.

Factories Back at Work.

There is a 9 p. m. curfew. Electricity is being used only reservedly.

"We hesitated to turn on electricity for fear of throwing switches that would set off the mines," said one officer.

However, I was told one-fourth of the factories "vital to the life of the people of Kiev" had been put pack to work.

"In some cases," My German informant asserted, "the bolshevists took the most vital machines out of factories and in other cases the plants were blown up.

"But in many instances, plant managers who had been ordered to destroy a factory disobeyed orders."

Some army kitchens still are functioning on a food-for-work basis of exchange.

At Rovno, a war-torn town of 40,000 population, about half Jewish, where I stopped en route here, Jews and war prisoners were cleaning up the debris of wrecked buildings—the Jews under German organized compulsory labor, the prisoners under German bayonets.

Corporation Court.

Two charges of intoxication and affray, one of operating a car without a tail light, one of failing to stop before a right turn on the red light, and two of parking overtime in a metered area brought offenders into the Corsicana Corporation court Thursday morning. One person arrested on a vagrancy charge was transferred to county authorities.

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY
By VERONICA DENGEL

THE WAY TO SLIMNESS.

Remember the letter I published some weeks ago from the lady who lost so much weight the first week on my diet — and who also talked about pains in her arm which disappeared on the diet, too. I had another letter from her, and she lost the 20 pounds and has never had trouble with that arm since.

Veronica Dengel

She said that she feels extremely well—and is going back on the Housecleaning Diet to lose the final ten pounds which is her present excess.

And I have recently contacted several unusual losses through the Housecleaning Diet as well as the One-Two-Three Diet. One woman in a class I had recently had lost 78 pounds without ever having seen me! She looked perfectly marvelous, and showed me pictures taken 15 years ago—and she looks younger now than then when she was so heavy. Imagine waiting 15 years before deciding to take off weight—or perhaps she had never been scolded into it as I have scolded—and scolded—and scolded—in this column! Then I ran into another interesting person who had lost 60 pounds on the one-two-three—and she worked hard during the whole time—a waitress, and said she never felt better. Naturally one feels better when taking off all that surplus—why not?

Suppose I were to tie a bag weighting 20, or 30, or 50 or 60 pounds on your back—and asked you to walk with it, sleep with it, play with it, work with it, eat with it—constantly there. Wouldn't you be weary and cross, and burdened? Of course you would. And that is exactly what people who are so overweight are doing. Yes, it may be widely distributed—but it is there just the same; making it difficult to be healthy, beautiful and poised! Making it difficult—and expensive to buy attractive clothes; making it difficult to overcome the frequent aversion to fat that so many other people have. You have to work twice as hard to make people see the real You that lies underneath it all!

Well, get rid of it! All of it. Use some of that will power which you have—you may have to search for all you need—but it is there, if you will just use it. Of course, you have to work hard! Nothing worth accomplishing can be achieved without effort, you know. Of course, you'll have to deprive yourself of many things that have been included in your usual diet! But they are your enemies, not your friends. They are foes to good looks, youthful appearance and good health. Of course, you will have to give up cocktails and highballs! But why not? They never did you a favor! And of course you will have to exercise daily—not spasmodically; diet daily—not every other day or so. Here is a good rule for you to follow and success will be yours. Diet today—an deat tomorrow! And since tomorrow never comes—you will follow your diet every day!. Send for your Housecleaning Diet, and the 1-2-3, and then get going! Lou only need a stamped, self-addressed envelope, the way to a slim figure is in your hands.

All requests for persons "Health Beauty and Poise" information desired by Veronica Dengel's column followers must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope (s. a. s. e.) Address: Veronica Dengel in care of this newspaper.

Former Corsicanan Now Editor-in-Chief Of Athens Review

The following taken from a recent issue of the Commerce Daily Journal will be read with interest here, where Clayton Hickerson resided for many years. He is the son of Mrs. Addie Mae Rylie of Corsicana:

"Clayton Hickerson, former news editor of the Commerce Journal, has been promoted to the position of editor-in-chief of the Athens Daily and Weekly Review. He had been with the Review only three weeks. This position came as a result. of R. T Craig, former editor, selling his interest in the paper to his partner, A. M. Barnes, dissolving a 25-year partnership. Hickerson was given Craig's duties.

"Hickerson was news editor of the Journal for over a year, coming here from Corsicana. His ability and interest in newspaper work is unsurpassed by few men of his age."

Future Farmers Of Kerens Win at Fair

KERENS, Oct. 23.—(Spl.)—The Kerens chapter of Future Farmers of America has again merited the attention of the public by winning second place with their educational booth exhibit at the State Fair of Texas, which closed Sunday.

Visitors to the booth numbered by thousands, came away loud in praise of the unique and interesting display arranged by the Kerens boys, and supervised by their sponsor, Roy E. Cloud, Aggie professor of the Kerens high school.

Along with the honor went also a cash prize, which will be used by the chapter for the furtherance of their work.

Another Good Reason.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Cy Rouse, editor of the Grants Beacon, informed his readers that because he had been out of town "the Beacon is two days late this week."

THE WAR TODAY

for a concerted landing in Europe against enemy opposition.

Still, when the fighting opens up in the middle east the allies are going to need troops and equipment which they do not possess. The answer as to which direction they are going to turn for help is easy.

Middle East Army

Britain and her allies do have a large standing army in the middle east, and only today an authoritative source in London declared that he believed Britons "would be very happy if some part of these forces could be sent to support Russian armies in the Ukraine." The allied troops in the middle east and near east total between three-quarters of a million and a million.

However, that isn't a great number of men to cover a huge territory running through northern Africa and on into the near east, the middle east, and thence to Russia. It should be noted, too, that many of these troops are Indians who, while magnificent fighters, haven't the military background which would adapt them thoroughly to such terrific mechanized warfare as will develop. It should be noted, too, that apart from manpower, the allies lack mechanized equipment, are very short of tanks and warplanes for that important area. American transport ships could move easily around South Africa and up to the Persian Gulf If the United States should want to send troops to the Middle East the main difficulty would be the distance, for America and Britain control the water route As Eden indicated, Uncle Sam and John Bull already are cooperating in perfecting the transport facilities from the head of the Persian Gulf to the Russian frontier.

Kicked Son Around.

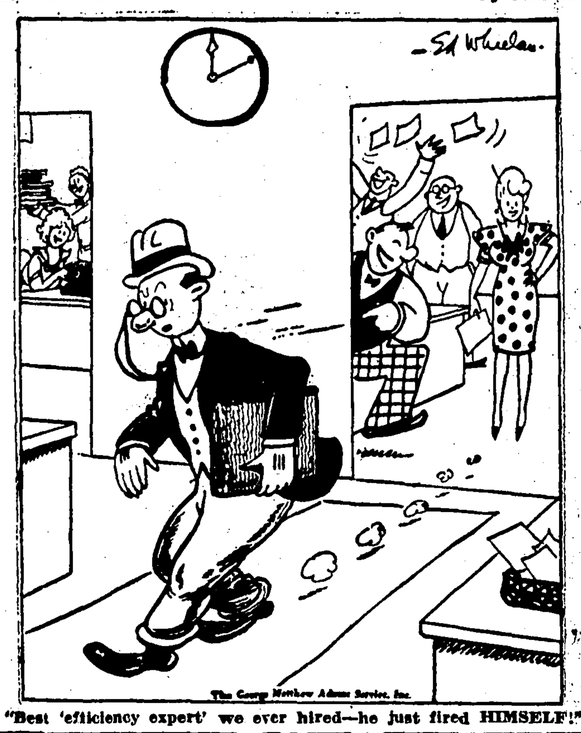

KENNEWICK Wash, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Folks may have been shocked at the spectacle of E. G. Beckes kicking his son around—while he was down, too.

But that's why he kicked him. Lloyd was shooked—by a charged wire fence while the two were pheasant hunting. His cry of "kick me, kick me loose" brought a swift boot in the pants.

Only damage was a burned hand—and a bruise.

HOW ABOUT YOUR PAY CHECK.

Is It Big Enough?

BOYLE GRADUATES GET JOBS

BOB BOYLE HAS FOR MORE THAN 23 YEARS SUCCESSFULLY TRAINED YOUNG MEN FOR HIGH PAID AIRCRAFT POSITIONS.

BOB BOYLE AIRCRAFT TRAINING SYSTEM is based on the experience of its founder, Robert Boyle, with 23 years' aircraft experience. Bob taught Aircraft Maintenance, Repairs and Building, in Baltimore School of Aircraft, Baltimore, Md., also with California Flyers, Inglewood, Calif., and for a number of years was employed by North American Aviation Inc., in both Maryland and Inglewood plants. He was for a long time Supervisor and Instructor in that company's training schools. Later, when North American discontinued their apprentice schools he opened the Bob Boyle Aircraft School, Inc. Bob now operates and manages the Dallas, Texas, school under the same name.

THE TRAINING COURSE is complete in the sense that it definitely TRAINS FOR IMMEDIATE EARNING and is not a long, drawn out technical or theoretical course. The training is "LEARNING TO DO A GOOD JOB WELL AND TO HOLD THE JOB BY DOING IT WELL."

OUR COURSE IS ONE OF THE BEST TO BE HAD ANYWHERE. TIME REQUIRED IS from 4 to 5 weeks, depending upon the student's ability.

OUR GRADUATES GET JOBS. Here is a quotation from a letter from a highly reputable business concern to an inquiring student:

"BOB BOYLE AIRCRAFT SCHOOL IS A MEMBER OF THE DALLAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. WE CONSIDER IT TO BE A RESPONSIBLE INSTITUTION.

WE ALSO KNOW THEY ARE IN EXCELLENT STANDING WITH NORTH AMERICAN AVIATION, INC., OF TEXAS, WHO ARE EMPLOYING THE MAJORITY OF THEIR GRADUATES.

WE ALSO HAVE CHECKED THEIR RECORDS AND FIND THAT PRACTICALLY 100 PER CENT OF THEIR GRADUATES ARE BEING EMPLOYED BY THE AIRCRAFT INDUSTRY IMMEDIATELY AFTER GRADUATION." Signed by a highly responsible business leader in Dallas. ASK OUR BONDED REPRESENTATIVE, WIRT W. JONES, HOTEL NAVARRO, CORSICANA, TEXAS, TO SHOW YOU THIS LETTER.

AVIATION NEEDS THOUSANDS OF MEN! But they must be trained. "BOYLE GRADUATES GET JOBS" is not an idle boast. This school has never guaranteed positions, but practically every graduate has OBTAINED IMMEDIATE EMPLOYMENT and is now ADVANCING RAPIDLY.

WHY BE SATISFIED WITH $100.00 PER MONTH OR LESS? In Aircraft when a 60 hour week pays (at 60c per hour for 40 hours and 90c per hour for 20 hours) $42 per week, and is automatically increased 5c per hour per month for 3 months so that after 90 days the pay for a 60 hour week is $52.50. THIS IS FOR TRAINED BEGINNERS. If you have talent and display industry, advancement is practically a certainty to much higher positions.

TAKE TIME BY THE FORELOCK

LEAD—DON'T FOLLOW!

THIS TRAINING CAN DO FOR YOU WHAT IT HAS DONE FOR HUNDREDS OF OTHERS. THE COST IS SAVED IN HIGHER EARNINGS IN A FEW SHORT MONTHS.

THE DEMAND FOR BOB BOYLE GRADUATES IS FIVE TIMES OUR SUPPLY.

SPECIAL PROPOSITION THIS WEEK END. WHY WAIT? Better see our bonded representative, MR. WIRT JONES, Hotel Navarro, Corsicana, Texas, FRIDAY and SATURDAY, 8 A. M. to 10 P. M.; MONDAY, 1 P. M. to 6 P. M.

HUGE THRONG WILL WITNESS BATTLE ON LOCAL GRID FRIDAY

SPECIAL TRAIN WILL BRING LARGE CONTINGENT FROM WACO FRIDAY NIGHT

By PAUL MOORE,
Sun SPorts Editor.

Corsicana and Waco Tiger mentors sent their charges through final light drills Thursday afternoon as they prepared for the "Battle of the Bengals" at Tiger Field Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Coach Paul Tyson of Waco has made no secret of his sincere hope for a dry field, as he is expected to shoot a passing attack in an effort to eliminate the Pierce Bengals. Tyson is credited with having a great respect for the Corsicana line.

Coach John A. Pierce and his assistants have not indicated what they desire in the way of weather, but they also want a dry field.

Pep Rally Thursday.

A giant pep rally was held Thursday night at the Robert E. Lee ward school campus, with the customary bonfire in the celebration. This is an annual custom at Corsicana High on the eve of the Waco tussle, although in former years the bonfire and pep rallies were held on the senior high school campus.

High school authorities are urging fans to purchase their tickets before game time to lessen the press at the gate Friday night. Adult tickets are available at the McDonald stores, P. and S. Pharmacy. McPherson's Drug Company, Navarro Drugs, and Noble's Drug Store.

A special Cotton Belt Lines train will bring some 2,000 Wacoans here Friday night, discharging the passengers near Tiger Field at 7 p. m. The return trip to Waco will begin at the Union Station at 11 p. m. Local fans are requested to give the visitors a lift to town after the game.

Capacity Crowd Due.

This tilt will attract a capacity crowd. Enthusiasts from as far as Denton, Austin, Houston, Dallas and other points will be in the stands at the kick-off. A crowd of approximately 9,000 is anticipated.

Coach Pierce has not indicated his starting lineup, but it will likely be Whitefield and Nutt, ends, Capt. Plyler and J. O. Carver, tackles; Ben Bunch and J. B. Paschall, guards; Felto Prewitt, center; Ellett or Ellington, quarter; Collier and Dew, halves; Cummins or Brietz, fullback. Ample replacements are available.

Hoive, one of the star Waco backs, has recovered from injuries and will be available for the Corsicana game. He was one of the stars of the Wacoans early in the season before the sensational rise of McNeill, spearhead and scoring threat of the McLennan county combination. McNeill also is the best passer in the Waco backfield, but Corsicana has met some fair flippers in Lanza of Adamson and Johnson of Tyler, not to mention Haltom of Bryan.

Corsicana has had lighter training this week than at perhaps any time this year on the eve of a tough game. Timing and polishing of plays have been stressed by the coaching staff.

Trick Plays Expected.

The Bengals have been practicing some trick and deceptive plays for the edification of the Wacoans, and many unusual formations are run from the T.

Coach Tyson has not indicated his starting lineup.

Both clubs will "shoot the works,' as this is a battle that each coach and school had rather win than any other on the schedule.

Officials will be Dobbs, Texas, referee; Stewart, S.M.U., umpire; Lipscomb, Centre, head linesman; Noah, North Texas, field judge

Other District 10-AA battles include Ennis at Temple, Mexia at Cleburne, Waxahachie at Bryan. Hillsboro has an open date.

Richland 4-H Club Girls Met Oct. 20

Richland 4-H Girls met at the school on October 20 with Miss Vera Sneed, county home demonstrator. Quiva Jo Farmer was elected president; Joyce Frost, vice-president; Dorothy Sands, secretary-treasurer; Frances Lee Lance, reporter; Jerry and Janice Manning, song leaders.

The club will meet again on November 20 for election of a sponsor.

HEALTH UNIT

society endorsed the proposal some time ago Dr. Shell presented Dr. Cherry of the state health department, who pointed out that in 1936 there were nine county units while now there are 51. Personnel in the proopsed unit includes a physician, the director; a sanitary engineer; graduate nurse or nurses, and a clerk. He termed his program as "health protection" not "curative," looking after milk and water supplies, immunization, etc., He said Texas had only five per cent of the population in the nation, but 15 per cent of the typhoid, with a higher diphteria. T. B. and other disease average.

Dr. Cherry said the unit would co-ordinathe the volunteer organizations working in a health program along with an advisory committee from the medical society. Home nursing instruction, taking crippled children to clinics, preschool and pre-natal instructions, etc., were stressed as duties of such an unit.

Wants to Co-Operate.

The health department officer made it plain that it was not the intention of the state health department to "high-pressure" Navarro county, but disired to cooperate in a sound health program for Corsicana and Navarro county.

V. M. Ehlers, director of the bureau of sanitation, State department of health, spoke at length on the progress made and particular attention was paid to that being carried out in defense areas. He said a good fire chief was more intrested in romoving fire hazards than in equipment, and that the same principle was true in health. He spoke of actions and objectives of national organizations charged with health phases in the national emergency and defense, with emphasis on building manpower strong and firm, and causing a strong morale among the people.

Ehlers outlined health precautions and work about various defense and camp sites for health protection. He complimented the city of Corsicana on the water system improvements and referred to other improvements contemplated.

In answer to an anticipated question about financing such a program, Ehlers said the congressmen and senators in Washington are not asking when and how the money is to be paid back, but are going ahead to protect this nation.

The speaker said difficulty was being experienced in securing qualified personnel for the units as many have been called into the service.

Unit Endorsed.

Dr. J. Wilson David, chairman of the public health committee of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, said that committee was 100 per cent in favor of a city-county health unit. Dr. W. T. Shell, Sr., also endorsed the proposal.

Dr. W. W. Carter, county health officer, said that every intelligent person was in favor of the best advantages possible, but reminded those present that public health work had been carried out by the physicians here for the thirty-five or forty years, including immunization, etc. He said that the people were not only facing public health problems, but an emergency at every turn, with taxes higher and higher.

Dr. Carter said that crippled children had been sent to the Shrine and other clinics for treatment for years by doctors. He said Mrs. H. G. Brown had done a fine work with crippled children.

Mrs. G. E. Moore of Frost, president of the county P.-T.A. council, said her organization was in favor of the unit if the step-up will care for the local schools.

W. H. Norwood, superintendent of the Corsicana schools, said the women were usually possessed of good judgment in all matters, and generally put over any project undertaken, and suggested the women were right in this instance.

J. C. Watson, superintendent of Navarro county schools, said the county schools were for the unit 100 per cent.

Cost of Unit.

Judge McCormick said the minimum unit would cost $13,050 per year, with the state providing half the cost, leaving $6,525 for the sponsoring agencies, to be paid from city and county taxes from the citizens if carried out. He referred to financial difficulties, but said the commissioners court was going to do what the people want done with the tax dollars. He said he had thought that such a proposal might dispense with some of the calls on the county hospital, and also added that the decision of the medical society should be a governing factor in the decision, as it is a medical problem.

Mrs. W. K. Steele said that the group she represented wanted a nurse for each of the four precincts, and that the women of the county were for the unit.

Miss Jessie Armstrong, State Home hospital superintendent, and well-known hospital executive, spoke for the proposal. Other women also voiced approval of such a move.

Judge McCormick referred to a county hospital, a Garitty Charity Association and Navarro Community Foundation and a VD clinic that most counties in this section do not have.

Dr. Leslie E. Kelton, president of the medical society, speaking as an individual physician, said the society would agree that such a unit was a good thing and a good idea.

Praises Hospital.

Dr. Kelton then said the county hospital is as efficient as possible under existing conditions for the indigent sick, and that the hospital officials and staff wanted to do more. He said that if the P.T.A. and other organizations behind the county health unit would get behind the P. and S. Hospital, "it would go places." He said that he believed the same results could be secured in that route as under the unit with less money, but if that was not desired, the health unit was good. "Why don't we get behind what we already have?" he questioned, and then said the city did not co-operate in the maintenance of the hospital. He said that X-Ray treatment and examination for TB suspects among school children had been offered by the hospital at nominal cost and only a half dozen have availed themselves of the service. Dr. Kelton suggested that the pay of the county health officer be raised and county nurses employed to go over the county schools, etc., instead of an entirely new unit. He said that a functioning health unit was already available in the county, and referred to three good hospitals in Corsicana.

A mother wants to know what to do when children need attention at school, and would like to be able to call a doctor and nurse for their problems.

Many Physical Defects.

W. V. Harrison, Frost school superintendent, said 75 per cent of school children have physical defects that could be remedied. He said it appeared to him that it was throwing away many dollars for teaching without proper health. He said he was for the county hospital and would like to see it receive more money to carry on other work, but "we in the country want something we can put our finger on as ours" * * if we get this unit, we would come down after them if they didn't come out to us," he continued.

Supt. Harrison then said the county hospital did enough business each year to "make us certain we want the health unit," and voiced the opinion he believed the people were willing to pay for it.

Dr. Cherry, explaining the unit program, said that doctors gave much time and money for indigent treatment. He said the proposed unit would not interfere with private practice and was not a "medical" treating organization.

Dr. Kelton remarked he was of the same opinion as Supt. Harrison, who said shallow cisterns and other hazards were found in the rural districts.

Finances Discussed.

Commissioner C. O. Slaughter of Currie asked what had the schools done about having their water supplies tested. He said the court had discussed the hiring of a doctor and nurse and work in the hospital for the X-ray pictures for TB. He said the hospital was criticized severely for turning away insane patients, etc. He said he did not oppose a health unit, but asked where was the money coming from to sponsor it, after saying the court had just so much money to spend. He said five years ago the hospital was in a bad physical and financial condition, and then referred to the additions, purchase of needed equipment, including X-ray, and the clearing of all old debts by the present management. He said that if the amount sought for the health unit was added to the hospital appropiration, doctors and nurses would look after the school children and others.

J. A. Sands, superintendent of the Richland schools, said it looked to him like the work of the unit could be in with the hospital.

Dr. W. W. Carter again said that he had never refused to do anything a teacher had asked him, and made the statement that the health unit would be better than what is available at the present time in that line.

Many Neglected Children.

D. A. Sloan, superintendent of the Blooming Grove schools, said he saw dozens of neglected children daily, and referred to some work done along that line by the local PTA and doctors. No help has ever come from the county hospital, he asserted.

Mrs. Conrad Matthews, Sr., former P. and S. Hospital superintendent, said education in the home for the care of babies and small children was a feature of the proposed unit — a necessary thing.

Mayor Calhoun commended the P. and S. Hospital in its curative work and referred to financial conditions as making curtailment of services necessary, but he declared in his opinion the county would be taking a backward step if it refuses to take the health unit proffered. He said that health was the first line of defense in this county and said the city was willing to go as far as it can in contributing toward the cost. He said if the county was unable to finance it, he favored the PTA, service clubs, and others take up public subscriptions for the first year.

R. W. Knight, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, favored public subscription if necessary. He voiced surprise that confusion between curative and preventative treatment existed.

Judge McCormick said that the commissioners court could get the money if the people want the unit and put on the health unit. He said the money in the treasury belonged to the people. He said it was up to the commissioners' court and the city commission to spend the money paid in as taxes.
